I made Apple a marketing campaign. It's about putting the phone down.

12

Social apps paused

12 notifications held until you're back.

Apple Offline.
Apple's first product
you don't hold.

The iPhone is becoming the villain in Gen Z's mental health story.

58%

of countries now ban phones in schools nationally.

UNESCO GEM Report, 2026

51%

of US Gen Z adults feel lonely on weekends.

2026 US survey of 4,100 adults

45%

of US smartphone users are considering a "dumbphone".

WhistleOut survey

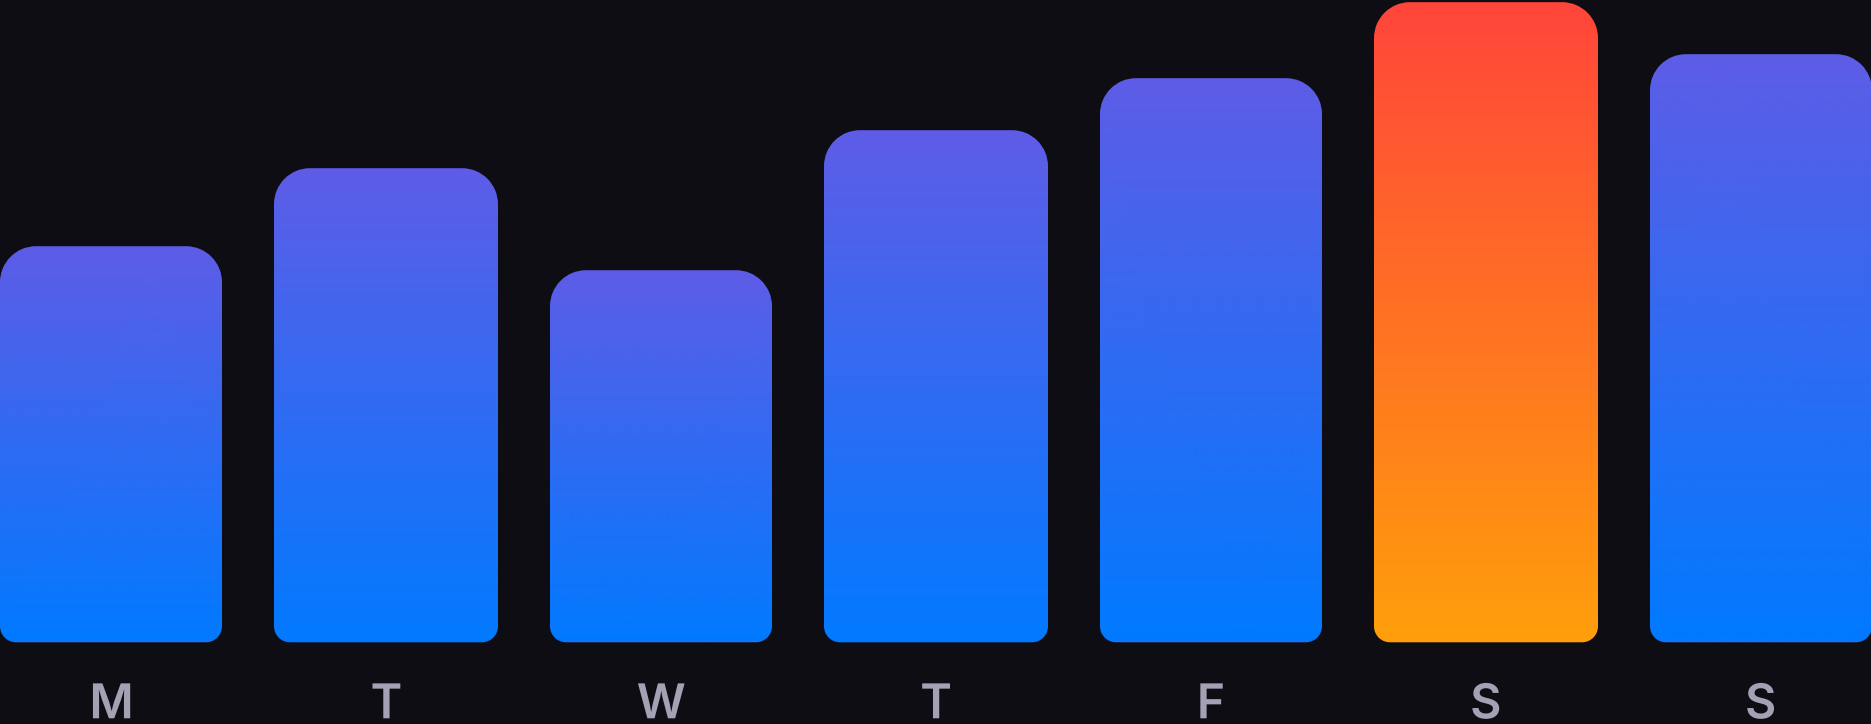

75%

of US adults support banning phones in class.

Pew Research Center, 2025

Screen Time · daily average

7h 12m

6 hours a day = 91 days a year. Or:

2,190

run clubs

2,920

albums

1,095

movie nights

Logging off is easy. Having somewhere to go is the hard part.

One swipe. Three parts.

Free weekly clubs in Apple Stores, plus an Offline Mode on iPhone, so Gen Z can put the phone down without missing out.

PART 1 · THE FEATURE

Offline Mode

Social apps pause, notifications stop. Maps, Music, Camera and Pay keep working. It counts time offline, not time on screen.

PART 2 · THE VERTICAL

Offline Clubs

Run Club, Listening Club, Photo Walk, Make Club. Free, in Apple Stores, after hours.

PART 3 · THE SHARE

Offline Wrapped

Every December: hours offline, top club, people met. Built to be shared.

YOUR YEAR, OFFLINE

312

hours with the phone down.

Top club	Saturday Run Club
People you met	27
Longest streak	9 Sundays
Kept the Watch on	Every time

Yes, we know the irony.

Zoe, 19, student

i want to use my phone less but everyone's on it

what would make you put it down?

honestly? if my friends were doing something irl too

Arjun, 23, new in the city

my social life is basically group chats

there's a Run Club at the Apple Store on Saturday

Less phone, not no phone.
